SURF AND THE CITY READY FOR TAKE OFF

ALL GIRL TEAM SET TO SOAR AT RED BULL FLUG TAG IN OTTAWA/GATINEAU

Vancouver, BC – On Sunday August 3, 2008, the all female cast of Surf and the City will set their sights on winning the most famed flying competition to date; Red Bull Flugtag.

For those not in the know Flugtag is German for "flying day" and the name of the notable competition. This is the second time Flugtag will take place in Canada. This year teams will descend into the Rideau Canal in Ottawa and be judged on distance, creativity and showmanship. Besides some basic safety criteria the craft is purely up to the imagination of the participating teams.

For information regarding the event please refer to the following link www.redbullflugtag.ca.

This all female team was chosen from over 170 hopefuls from across Canada to design build and then fly their outrageous human powered flying machine into the river. Team Surf and the City is the brain child of four women who are as unique as the characters of the cult sitcom Sex and the City however this foursome is west coast surfer girl meets Manolo Blahnik. From Friday night Cosmos with the ladies to Saturday morning surfing the group is courageous, confident, feminine and sexy.

Working around the clock the team is building a NYC yellow taxi cab, complete with a surf board rack and of course wings. The girls are set on winning and will be donating the money towards a ROXY/QUIKSILVER surf camp for underprivileged children in Tofino, BC

To ensure funding for building supplies, shipping the craft and team travel the girls will be hosting a fundraising event at the Ocean Club on Thursday July 24th. Hosted by Fiona Forbes from Urban Rush and Karen Khun Khun from the Fox the evening will include a 3-course meal, signature drink, silent auction and live band playing surf tunes. The team will also be on site to meet fans and sign autographs.
